Warning to the Public Regarding Identity Theft

The Los Angeles Superior Court has become aware of telephone scams by identity thieves targeting members of the public. They call, claiming to be court employees needing social security numbers for jury service.

Court and jury employees never contact potential jurors by telephone and would never, under any circumstances request any personal or financial information over the telephone.

The Court suggests that you hang up on any caller who claims to be a court employee seeking this information.

Similar scams have been reported recently in Riverside and San Bernardino counties as well as other states. We urge all members of the public to be aware of such scams and be careful whenever you reveal confidential information over the telephone.
